Short Term NTI Plan

In the case we have inclement weather, we plan to continue on with Non Traditional Instruction (NTI) as much as possible. With advance notice, we will plan to send students home with a device and next steps on work. Teachers and staff will be available to support students via the digital platform or email. Thanks for your support!

What is short-term NTI?	Short Term NTI will be a blend of asynchronous instruction (Google Classroom assignments) and synchronous availability to teachers (scheduled office hours).
What will the work look like?	Short-Term NTI is a blend of: ● Asynchronous instruction: Students complete assignments posted in Google Classroom. Kindergarten and first grade students may bring home packets until they are more comfortable using the Chromebook independently. ● Synchronous support: Teachers are available during scheduled office hours for questions and assistance. This approach ensures continuity of learning during inclement weather or other disruptions.
Where do students log in?	Students will: 1. Sign in to their Chromebook using their JCPS username and password. 2. Access Google Classroom via: ● JCPS Student Portal ● Clever ● Or directly at classroom.google.com Student and Family Guide to Google Classroom Signing in to a Chromebook as a Student
What are students expected to do?	Students are expected to: ● Log in to Google Classroom daily.

	● Complete all assigned tasks for reading, math, and one additional subject. ● Submit work by the posted due date. ● Check for teacher feedback and respond if needed. ● Join office hours if they need help. Classroom Google Meet Links and Office Hours Flexibility is key - students can work at their own pace during the day, but assignments should be completed by the end of the NTI period. If you need your teacher outside of office hours, please send them an email or message and they can respond there or get on a Google Meet with you.
